

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Kaden Bernhard, who worked with us at Ampos Solutions in Bangkok, Thailand, during the summer of 2022. As the Founder & CEO of Ampos Solutions, I had the privilege of witnessing Kaden's exceptional contributions firsthand, especially during the challenging times of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Kaden joined our team as an intern tasked with developing a rapid prototype of a grading application for Chulalongkorn University's Dental Program, a project undertaken alongside two local Thai interns. Although he had limited experience in mobile application development, Kaden swiftly mastered the necessary technology stack and immediately began contributing to the project's progress.

What truly sets Kaden apart is his remarkable leadership and communication skills. He seamlessly took charge of the team, efficiently delegating tasks and ensuring steady progress despite the minimal guidance available. His ability to overcome language barriers was particularly impressive; he employed innovative methods such as using Google Translate, creating detailed diagrams, and finding other creative solutions to ensure effective team communication.

Kaden's aptitude for translating complex technical concepts into easily understandable language was evident in his interactions with the professors at Chulalongkorn University. He adeptly communicated technical details in an easily comprehensible way, facilitating smoother collaboration and project advancement.

The end result of Kaden's efforts was a highly functional, cross-platform prototype of the grading application, meticulously aligned with the UX designer's specifications. His keen understanding of project requirements and his ability to convert design concepts into a tangible, user-friendly application were truly commendable.

In summary, Kaden Bernhard is a highly capable and resourceful individual with a unique blend of technical prowess, leadership, and communication skills. I have no doubt that he will be an invaluable asset to any team he joins. I wholeheartedly recommend him for any position he seeks.

Bancha Dhammarungruang

bancha@amposgroup.com